

KERRY ROBERTSON

KEYNOTE SPEAKER • TRAINER • COACH

Kerry Robertson works with people and organizations who want to improve their communication skills in a variety of speaking situations ... from business presentations to media interviews. She inspires people to maximize their potential when speaking, whether their audience is one or one thousand.

Kerry is a powerful speaker who captivates and entertains her audience. Her unique experience as a television news anchor, talk show host and actress, combined with her background as an award-winning speech educator, distinguishes her as a leader in presentation and communication skills, and media training.

What clients say about Kerry...

"Kerry kept the audience in the palm of her hand!"

*Joan Gilmore, Columnist
The Journal Record*

"Kerry worked with four members of Sonic's senior executive team to improve each of our speaking skills in preparation for numerous presentations made to stock analysts and investors. Her expert 'fine-tuning' gave us the support and confidence we needed."

*Clifford Hudson, Chairman & CEO
Sonic Industries*

"Wow! Kerry is truly a dynamo. This topic is very important and she makes it fun. Thanks to Kerry, our conference was a huge success."

*Eric Sande, Executive Director
Chamber of Commerce Redmond, Oregon*

"Kerry is truly the crème de la crème in the training field. She comes out on top by far as the most dynamic trainer I have seen in my 20 years at OSU. Her expertise and energy are unmatched."

*Sandy Barth, Training Manager
Oklahoma State University*

"Kerry's unique personality and enthusiasm immediately put the group at ease and the two-day training session went off without a hitch."

*Dow Dozier, Frmr. Director of Communications
Kerr-McGee Corporation*

"Kerry is a valuable resource! Her media training at our national convention was a 'rousing' success."

*Terry Neese, Corporate & Public Policy Advisor
National Association of Women Business Owners*
